Environmental Protection

We all know what we need to do to protect the environment, whether that is recycling, reducing our power consumption by :-

- switching electronic devices off, especially computers and printers and scanners rather than using standby,
- during Winter months, ensuring that heaters and lighting are not left on unnecessarily
- reducing the need for 2 vehicles for a journey rather than 1
- by walking short journeys instead of taking the car/bus to work
- recycling water wherever feasibly possible
- recycling paper and other stationery items
- avoidance of use of non-recyclable plastics
- minimalization of waste materials to commercial waste depots
- sourcing our materials from renewables wherever possible, and others

Businesses like J&M Crane & Transport Limited are regulated to prevent pollution and to keep their own carbon emissions low. We are regulated by HM Government to ensure that our carbon footprint is as low as it can realistically be, given the nature of our business.

There are incentives to installing renewable power sources in our homes and businesses. Environmental protection is the third pillar and to many, the primary concern of the future of humanity.

It defines how we should study and protect ecosystems, air quality, integrity and sustainability of our resources and focusing on the elements that place stress on the environment. It also concerns how technology will drive our greener future; the EPA 1990 recognized that developing technology and biotechnology is key to this sustainability, and protecting the environment of the future from potential damage that technological advances could potentially bring.

We at J&MCTL are striving and must continue to seek sensible environmental impact solutions to ensure that we offer as low an Environmental footprint as possible.

Please help us to continue this by giving J&MCTL your committed support.
